CONNIE'S COMMENTS

Brushed Blooms

By Maya Anthony

On canvas stretched, colors bloom,
Art captures garden's sweet perfume.

Petals painted, hues so deep,
Artwork's promise, secrets keep.

Brush dances, mimicking bee,
Flitting 'tween blooms, wild and free.

Shadows and light, perfectly cast,

Online art courses

Moments in gardens, forever last.

Where art meets earth, beauty grows,

A painted garden, nature's prose.

Each stroke tells of sun and rain,

Merging life, art's gentle gain.

* Next BHADA Meeting is Aug 16, 2025 at 9:30 at Whitewood SD in the Fire Hall.

Bonnie will lead us in our painting project at the Aug meeting;
we will be painting on aprons to wear at the bunco party.

BHADA Pictures that you have taken and would like on the website, please send to Jo Ann our webmaster.

Fall Seminar News

If you need to order surface's & stencil's for the seminar, please have your order to Diane by July 15th (if you didn't order at the meeting). She wants to have them by the August meeting so you can pick them up then!

Diane checked in with Lindsey at Cupboard Dist. and the Sign board will be $5.96 and the Tombstone board $2.98 Plus Tax and Shipping. We do not know what discount Pine Craft will give us on the Slot Board it is based on the number of boards we order. Regular price is $14.99 plus tax and shipping. They both stressed it is far better to order in bulk.

Meeting Minutes

The Black Hills Area Decorative Artists met June 21, 2025 at the Whitewood Fire Hall with 17 members present. The meeting was called to order at 9:35 am by Vice President Janae. A correction to the May minutes printed in the newsletter was discussed---In Fall Seminar, Sandy McTeire will be teaching not Shannon Miller. Diane made a motion to approve the May minutes as corrected. Linda K. seconded the motion. Motion was approved. Treasurer Mary Z. gave the financial report, including the report from the Retreat committee. The report was filed for audit.

Committee Reports:

Spring Retreat: Diane reported that all happened slightly under budget.

Fall Seminar: Diane handed out registration forms. They also can be printed from the website. This year class size is somewhat limited to 25. All who register after that number is reached will be required to pay teacher's required fee over 25 students.... which is $20 more than the regular fee. Diane is also able to get some surfaces cheaper by ordering bulk. She needs to know who wants surfaces IMMEDIATELY. Future teachers Paulette D for 2026, and Sandy M for 2027.

Hospitality: Treats were provided by Jackie, Sally and Diane today. August treats will be provided by Joyce and Dorothy.

Membership: Linda K. reports that she no longer has a home phone number.

Ways & Means: Linda K reported that we get to use the larger room this year at the Moose. There will also be the same lunch before playing Bunco. 14 silent auction items have been turned in and there are still some table favors to be turned in. Keep painting, ladies.

Memory Boxes: Bonnie reported that the last boxes to be mailed went to New York and Wisconsin. She also reported that she had received a $20 donation for the program. Pat K. also brought several nice "Wallies" that will work nicely for decorating the boxes.

New Business: Sally suggested that we have some sort of matching shirts, etc. to wear at Bunco so attendees know who the BHADA members are. After much discussion Rita moved that we paint aprons with sunflowers on them with BHADA on all aprons... Diane seconded the motion. Motion carried. We will paint these at the Aug. Meeting.

Show and Share: Betty B. showed a beautiful mixed media Fall project. Cindy showed her beautiful 'vacation' projects. Painting projects were shown by Jo Ann, Diane, Linda H.

The meeting was adjourned to paint a beehive, bee and flower project with Cindy.

SHARING MEMORIES

I don't think it is just me, but I make lists. Mine are usually written on the back of an old envelope. I'm saving the nicer notepads that various charities send, along with a donation request, for some important missive, if I ever have to send one. You fine folks who use your phones for list making still understand the usefulness of lists. The days of fading memories are visiting some of us so reminders are helpful.

Packing lists, grocery lists, lists of errands are part of my life. If I left a list on the table, I might as well go back and retrieve it—or plan on making two trips to get the items I forgot.

When going to a BHADA meeting, we collect our items in a cart or tote bag for transportation. We might have a list of what we need and hopefully we remembered to look at the list and collect the items right away. On rare occasions, brushes get left behind, or a water receptacle or paper towels. This is not a disaster because chances are very good that other members have extras of just about everything. Sharing is a feature of the members.

There is one thing we all bring—to every meeting. We all attend with a kind and loving heart. At the last meeting we heard comments on loss, on illness, on gratitude for recovery, on plans for future fun, on the importance of seeing members who rarely attend, and the value of friendship. The warmth and caring—member to member—carries over to memory boxes. We understand loss, confusion, and dashed hopes. We have also experienced progress, recovery and better days.

We paint hope and love into every memory box. We paint a first step to recovery. It is who we are to the recipients and to each other. Be proud! Be humble! Be grateful that we can make a difference!
