CONNIE'S COMMENTS

Wow! Spring retreat was a hit and every painter placed their own personal touches on the projects. We all learn something new from each other whether it is a product, style or paint color. The food was phenomenal and kudos to Sally and Diane for all the work that goes into a retreat or seminar. Thank you, thank you!!!!

We appreciate the teachers of course and their prep/supplies for all of the classes. (My projects still require finishing with more to paint, glue, varnish, etc.)

We did have an impromptu vote to pay the deposits for Paulette DiGesare to teach in 2026 and Sandy McTier in 2027. We will keep Shannon Miller in mind for another year as she is also interested.

In memory of Rita Holdhusen, many of her craft supplies were shared as prizes and rummage sale items. There was so much to choose from. Items that weren't purchased will be delivered to the Suzie Cappa Art Center-Black Hills Works by Luann and Janae for a great cause.

The vote was taken for fall seminar projects by our teacher Lisbeth Stull. Looks like we will be busy. Unsure about surface requirements, but Deco Art will provide paint.

Thanks Mary for your assistance in getting our bills paid and keeping track of all our expenses. It's always required as we close out the day.

Enjoy the spring palette, Connie

BUNCO

Hope everyone had a productive retreat and hope all your projects are done. My birthday was great!

Nelda said quite a few bird houses were turned in and some silent auction items also. Thank you to everyone for painting. This is a group event and we all benefit from it.

More about BUNCO in next months newsletter.

Thanks

Linda K and Nelda

Lisbeth Stull will be our Fall Seminar teacher in 2025.

Dear Bonnie and the members of BHADA,

Thank you so very much for the amazing memory box donation to our bereavement program. The boxes will be such an amazing memento to our families.

We appreciate you and the time spent to create such beautiful pieces.

Cute Memory Box Idea

SHARING MEMORIES

It may go against the laws of physics, but I believe that some things are bigger on the inside than they are on the outside. I'm not talking about your house, your closets or your painting room. I realize that our painting supplies may be larger than a closet, a room or even a house, but that is a topic for our therapists. As an example of what I am talking about, I ask you to remember something. That, too, can be a challenge--the remembering.

Think back to the day, probably many years ago, when a child, grandchild or neighbor child presented you with a single dandelion or a bouquet of dandelions. See that sweet face and that big smile. Feel the emotion, the tears it brought to your eyes, the smile it brought to your heart. The whole day became brighter!!

The same can be said for a memory box. In the months and years since it was presented there might have been a successful pregnancy or an adoption. They might realize that their grief has lessened over time when at first they thought they would never have another happy day. They may have counseled and encouraged another family who were facing that same loss.

There is no forgetting but there is healing. Help with the healing- Paint a memory box. April showers bring May flowers and even dandelions can bring happiness, as you know.

MEMORY BOXES ARE ALWAYS NEEDED
